

Jeff's Grand Entry

As photographically recorded by yours truly, an angry new baby was brought kicking and screaming into the world on Aug. 12, 1978 at 12:17 p.m. In mutilating the only X-rated picture I ever took of her, Jeff's mother used scissors to clip off the corner of the photo that inadvertently revealed a bit too much. Pictured below are mother and son two years later, both fully clothed.

Born under protest: Dr. Levine holds our unappreciative new son.
