

Margene on the steps of the Chimney Springs home we purchased in 1978. Thirty-two years later, she would walk down the same steps on her way to the backyard (insert), where she left this earth for Heaven.