

Be proud, America: Presenting your fit and trim federal government

$19.1 trillion
CBO-projected national debt by end of Obama's 2nd term

THE CLOCK IS TICKING

"This is the most easily predictable fiscal crisis in history."

Alan Simpson and Erskine Bowles, co-chairs of the 2009 bi-partisan National Commission on Fiscal Responsibility and Reform

Belt-tightening, Washington style

Saddled with a humiliating potbelly of debt created by insanely irresponsible spending, America has become the world's poster child for incompetent governing. George W. Bush and Republicans spent money like there was no tomorrow. Then, President Obama and his party took unsustainable spending to a terrifying new level. Able to stay afloat only by printing and borrowing staggering sums of money stolen from future generations, the land of unconscionable debt and the home of deficits as far as the eye can see has reduced itself to mimicking the reckless fiscal practices of the Third World's most dysfunctional banana republics.

Nov. 2009
Obama shatters
$12 trillion
debt ceiling

Sep. 2008
Bush shatters
$10 trillion
debt ceiling

Jan. 2001
Bush inherits
$5.7 trillion
national debt

Apr. 1990
National debt reaches
$3 trillion

HOW BUSH AND OBAMA EXPLODED THE NATIONAL DEBT